

3...2...1...go, go, go, to the 2004 national autoslalom championship

Spring is here and most of us have already started preparing our rides. Some scrub and shine, others oil and grease. Regardless, the racing season is knocking at our doors and CADL is finishing fine tuning every little detail to offer a memorable racing week-end to all enthusiasts.

It's also time for registration. We are offering online registration and payment (via PayPal). Attached is a mailing form and payment method. Please read the NAC 2004 rule book and the supplementary rules. They can be found on our web site at <http://www.cadl.qc.ca/cnac/>

We are also including some information on camping and other accommodations as well as the schedule and contacts for any questions. There's an info line that we highly recommend to have handy for any emergencies in your trip. We highly recommend that you reserve your accommodations early since it's the NAC week-end coincides with start of the busiest vacation period in the province.

For additional comments or questions, please feel free to post on our forum <http://cadl.qc.ca/forum/> or send us an email at info@cadl.qc.ca

The CADL is eager to see each and everyone of you.

On behalf of the NAC organisers, we wish you a beautiful and safe trip.
